State of Emergency

What do the words “State of Emergency” mean? A State of Emergency allows the state and local governments to request funding and “to perform actions or impose policies that it would normally not be permitted to undertake. A government can declare such a state during a natural disaster, civil unrest, armed conflict, medical pandemic or epidemic or other biosecurity risk. Such declarations alert citizens to change their normal behavior and orders government agencies to implement emergency plans.”

The State, County and City have each presented emergency plans. The State of Emergency can be updated on a weekly basis. As of my writing this in May, the governor has loosened opening plans in various places in Florida, including Palm Beach County but excluding Broward and Dade. Restaurants and some stores are open, all with specific guidelines. It seems beaches will reopen before this goes to publication. In Palm Beach County and the city of Delray, we are granted the ability to open pools and outdoor recreational facilities but not any indoor facilities. Each type of facility has its own governmental guidelines we are responsible for enforcing.

For each, the common denominators are six feet (6’) of social distancing, masks to and from any facility and monitoring to ensure we conform to the limited constraints. Tennis using only 7 courts. The county is reevaluating restrictions each week. Currently pool and courts are randomly monitored. Other requirements for the present are:

- ◆ Doubles allowed for tennis and pickleball. Sign up at Tennis Center. No walk-ons.
- ◆ Only residents allowed to play on the courts, no spectators.
- ◆ Residents only allowed to swim or walk in Pool #5 at this time.
- ◆ May bring and take home your own noodle and chair.
- ◆ Specified hours are posted in each area. Changes will be sent in eblasts.

These restrictions will likely change over time. It is a most challenging time for the board, many of whom have spent countless hours on webinars addressing the legal, medical and financial aspects of COVID-19 and how it effects Florida and community living. What can we do? What must we do? What do we think we should do? And HOW? How to keep Rainberry Bay safe? How to keep the residents as healthy as possible?

Thankfully, we have people willing to shop for us, restaurants with drive-by pickup service, food delivery options, volunteers at the open facilities, and the kindness of our neighbors. Please, keep yourself and your families safe and healthy. Our community and I, personally, thank you!

Master Board President
Lois Wiesler

We Remember . . .

- ♥ Beloved husband of DEB PETERS, father to 3 sons and grandfather to 11 children, KEN NAVAN, passed peacefully in his sleep at home with hospice. Ken was an active tennis club member and player, an intermediate school teacher in Southampton, NY. Memorial services will be held in NY as soon as they can be.
- ♥ From JOYCE VOGEL: My beloved husband, MORTY VOGEL, passed away on April 25th, at age 99. He never tired of telling me how much he loved Rainberry Bay for the 39 years this has been our home. Now, please allow me to express my heartfelt gratitude to all the people in our Rainberry family, who have honored me with their beautiful words of love and affection for my darling Morty.

DEB PETERS recently lost her beloved husband, KEN NAVAN, after a long and tough health battle. Those of us who know Deb send her our deepest sympathy and hope that the many special memories of Ken will help her during and beyond this difficult time. She has left to tie up loose ends in NY and will be back in late summer.

If you'd like to do something to memorialize Ken, please consider donating to Cros Ministries Food Pantries, Neighborhood Resource Center, 141 SW 12th Avenue, Delray Beach, FL 33444 in Ken's memory. # BOARD MEETING ALERT

At the Master meeting on June 10, all three associations will discuss Electronic Voting for the Rainberry Bay Annual Meeting and Election. The June meeting will be for initial discussion and presenting a motion. We will follow up the meeting with a mailing to all residents. This will be your opportunity to participate in the discussion. Please join us by accepting the Zoom invitation when you receive it.

HOMES BOARD PRESIDENT

Karen Clouser

I am writing this newsletter on a sunny day in the beginning of May. We have just begun to open our amenities here in Rainberry. Enforcing our rules for each amenity took many hours to plan following the CDC, County, City of Delray and State regulations. As you know, these rules were put in place to make us safe. I hope all of you are still doing well.

This is the beginning of hurricane season, so we need to prepare. It is a good time to stock up not only for hurricane season but the next round of the coronavirus. Plan ahead and get your toilet paper, paper towels, tissues, laundry detergent, fabric softener, dishwashing soap and personal hygiene items. Start to get your water and other favorite drinking items, foods that will last, batteries and flashlights, garbage bags, and fill your propane tanks, don't leave yourself short. The worst thing that will happen is that you will have surplus items. As you think of things, make a list, some of these items will be on your list for a while until you get enough. You don't want to be price gouged!

On the Weather Channel the other day, they had a great idea for making hot water. Fill the large heavy duty black garbage bags half full or whatever amount you can carry with water. Put them out in the sun and by days end you will have enough hot water to wash up. So put those heavy duty bags on your list as well.

Get your information firsthand and attend both Homes and Master Zoom meetings so you can keep up with the changes as they are occurring. In May, we took a poll and 67% of the people preferred Zoom® meetings over going to the Clubhouse. Florida legislators are currently negotiating the continuance of Zoom meetings. We will keep you posted.

YOUR CHANCE TO PARTICIPATE IN RB GOVERNANCE

Stephanie Braunstein, Villas Association President

On Wednesday, May 20, a Town Hall meeting took place for Villas homeowners via Zoom. The main topic was the proposed revision of the Villas Declarations, copies of which were mailed out to Villas homeowners prior to the meeting. In the mailing packet, I included some basic background information for the documents as well as a justification for updating the documents.

I also let Villas owners know that I would answer any questions they posed either before the meeting or during the meeting. There were six questions asked of me before the meeting, and I incorporated the answering of those questions into the agenda of the meeting. Further discussions of those questions as well as other questions brought up during the meeting were handled via the chat function of Zoom.

Another method used to promote discussion was to put polls up on the screen, asking how attendees felt about some of the issues being raised in the proposed revision. These polls helped me and the other Board members get a feel for how the owners were leaning on those issues. They also showed the attendees how their neighbors were leaning.

The presence of one of the Villas attorneys, Chris Reed, was especially helpful in explaining the intricacies of legal requirements for our community. All in all, a lively yet civil interaction occurred; and the feedback from attendees will help guide the next revision of the Declarations for Villas.

As soon as that next revision is completed, Villas owners will once again be contacted; and, hopefully, voting on the final version can begin. At this time, RBB Boards are taking a close look at electronic voting. We have contacted a company for pertinent information, and we are making sure we would be in compliance with all HOA laws and our own documents before going further into this plan. I am hoping that we can utilize electronic voting because it would be more efficient and less expensive than the way we currently vote. I will emphasize here the cost savings because our older community requires a lot of expensive maintenance, and we must conserve our funding in any way that we can.

Thanks for your input; thanks for your participation; thanks for being a part of our great community!

NIA NEWS

Helen Sohne

Many of us are discovering the benefits and joys of daily long walks, jogs and bike rides. Others are thrilled to be back at the pool, tennis or pickleball court.

However, repetitive movements often come with their own risks and not many sports have you moving every part of your body in beneficial ways.

That is why I am excited to offer Nia classes on Zoom. It's the same schedule as the live classes but slightly shorter: Tuesday and Fridays from 10-10:45 AM with an optional chat following. The feedback on the class has been great; people are finding it a welcome change of pace. Let me know if you would like to dance with us on Zoom.

CURRENT EVENTS

Our teleconference meetings will continue every Friday at 1 PM until the clubhouse is declared safe to use. Everyone is welcome. All opinions are appreciated.

We actually find we have other topics to discuss besides the coronavirus, so give us a try.

SUMMER BOOK CLUB

Allan Trust

Our first teleconference meeting on May 7 was presented by Linda Tabil and went very well. The few glitches were minor and did not detract from Linda's wonderful presentation and the discussion that followed.

The next meeting will be Thursday, June 4 at 1 PM. Andrea Baron will present Gilded Suffragists by Johanna Neuman.

Andrea understands that getting hold of the book may not be easy for everyone and she suggests that reading articles on the suffragists and the long battle of women to gain equal rights will enhance your experience at the meeting.

ELECTION 2020

With the virus pandemic possibly carrying over into the fall, the safest way to vote is by mail.

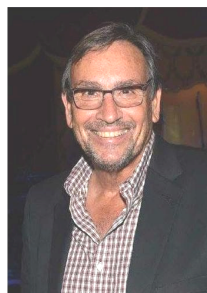

Registering to vote by mail (VbM) is fast and easy on the website of the Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections at Click on "Vote by Mail" and then "Request a Vote-by-Mail" and follow the prompts.

Or, call 561-656-6208 to request a VbM by phone.

Registering to vote by mail will not prevent you from going to the polls. It just gives you another option if you are unable to vote in person.

JEAN-ELLEN KING

Phyllis Berke

JEAN-ELLEN KING spread a blanket on a beach in North Miami twenty-three years ago after a grueling interview for a teaching job in Florida. (By the way, she got the job.) Unbeknownst to her, SANDY WASSERMAN, a handsome stranger, watched her relax on a blanket as she admired the scenery. Sandy approached her and said, "I am normally very shy and have never done anything like this before but there is something about your energy that I find very attractive." It was a great line and it worked. They were both separated from their spouses at the time and were at loose ends. They got their divorces and found their happiness together.

Before they married, whenever Sandy proposed, Jean-Ellen would say, "Why marry?" She was content in their relationship as it was. Both were observant in their religion, keeping kosher and celebrating Jewish holidays. She changed her mind about getting married when their Rabbi advised them that the Jewish religion strongly believed in the sanctity of marriage. They have ten grandchildren. Jean-Ellen loves hearing them call her Nana, which is what she called her grandmother.

Jean-Ellen was raised in Clark, New Jersey, where she attended public school from kindergarten through high school. Because she was able to write all the alphabet letters and numbers and could tie her own shoelaces and her classmates' laces as well, she was admitted to kindergarten at the age of four.

When she was twelve years old in junior high school, she learned how to sew. Jean-Ellen showed her seamstress grandmother a skirt she had just completed in school. Her grandmother looked it over and said, "You know, my dear, a good seamstress has the inside of a garment looking as nice as the outside." This was a lesson she followed ever since. She wished to make her grandmother proud of her.

While in high school Jean-Ellen loved the music of the Beatles and loved studying French. She would translate her beloved Beatles' songs into French. She chose to enroll in Elmira College in New York State because it was a small girls' school which offered a junior year in Paris, France. From September to June, during her junior year, Jean-Ellen studied literature and art at the Sorbonne, and visited other European countries. She graduated from Elmira with a double major in French and Sociology. She went on to obtain a Master's Degree in Education. Over the years she taught in schools in Connecticut, Dutchess County, New York, and Broward County.

Back in 1988, in New York, Jean-Ellen taught ten-year old children in fifth grade. Since then, a dozen of these pupils have kept in touch with her through Facebook. She recalled that one of them had trouble remembering whether the 'e' or the 'i' followed the 'h' in the word 'their'. Jean-Ellen had her spell the word aloud and write it correctly on the blackboard fifty times. The pupil mastered the correct spelling and grew up to be a psychiatrist.

When Jean-Ellen was teaching second grade in Sunrise, Florida, one of her young students told her that his five-year old sister was dying from leukemia in a hospital. Jean-Ellen told him that she regularly donates blood and so she contacted the little girl's parents and doctor. Almost immediately, it was confirmed that her blood type matched the child's. Jean-Ellen did a direct donation to the little girl in the hospital. Within twelve hours, the child woke up and said, "I'm hungry!" Jean-Ellen laughed at that because that's what she would have said.

After twenty-four years of teaching, Jean-Ellen and Sandy retired to Rainberry Bay, where her parents owned a home. Jean-Ellen and Sandy are both active in our community. Sandy is involved with an orchid project which mounts orchids on trees throughout the community.

When the pandemic reached the United States, Jean-Ellen began sewing face masks for Rainberry-ites. "Do you want a print or solid color?" she asked me as we passed each other on our morning walk, she on her bicycle, me on foot. It was a timely gift because I didn't know where to find face masks. Jean-Ellen also finds people to help through her synagogue. She calls people who belong to her congregation who are not feeling well. One of the people Jean-Ellen called had a FaceTime consultation with her doctor. He told her, "Raise your right hand, raise your left hand, stand on one foot, touch your nose." Jean-Ellen said, "Thank God you weren't talking to your gynecologist!"

Before the pandemic kicked in, Jean-Ellen was busy and active with jogging, riding her bike, swimming, bowling on the Rainberry Bay league and playing mahjonn twice a week. Now she spends her time making masks. In one month, she created over four hundred fabric masks. She told me, "I'll continue to make masks as long as I have requests for them and my supplies last."

I always enjoy watching Jean-Ellen and Sandy dance at parties in our theater. Jean-Ellen still maintains her love affair with France. She was thrilled when she saw the Eiffel Tower for the first time and became a collector of all things Eiffel! She has an Eiffel Tower room in their home.

Thank you, Jean-Ellen for your enthusiasm, kindness, and caring personality.

The website committee is working on your website during this time. We could use help from anyone here that is either website-savvy or may know our new engine, Wix.com. Wix is a cloud-based web development service. It allows users to create HTML5 websites and mobile sites through the use of online drag and drop tools.

We have successfully integrated the FSR website with our new site so you access it from the Welcome page by hitting the appropriate yellow button (FSR HOMES or FSR VILLAS). You can access the website from any computer as well as from your smartphone. We anticipate more usage now that everyone here at Rainberry has internet.

All board, club and committee news should be current and someone assigned to getting new information to us for input. When you have something special, you want to "advertise" it online.

The WELCOME page will give up-to-date information and direct you to other pages. The HOME page has information regarding our community aimed at potential buyers. It also has a link where realtors and potential buyers can download the Sales and Rental application package. We can add additional marketing input as needed. If you have a positive comment about your life here, share it with us for this page.

The NEWS menu contains the latest information we have on the coronavirus: openings and closings, alerts, whatever is being shared with us by our board and management regarding the disease. Under the BEACON tab, we publish the most current Beacon prior to the printed copy, as well as the previous issues for this year. Ultimately, it will contain a library of old issues.

We are currently preparing a form with the ultimate goal of printing a Residents' Directory online. This requires (according to Florida HOA statute) a signed Opt-In/Out by every resident. The new form will be added to the Newcomer's package, the Welcome package and here on the website. It also provides the opportunity to agree to the printed Directory. Our ultimate intention is to provide an updated directory online and help save printing costs. We will make this information available to residents only via password protection. Please let us know what you think.

What else will make this website more relevant to you? We have the most up-to-date CALENDAR which can be printed off for your convenience. Since the Beacon publishes monthly or every two months, and the calendar changes much more often, it cannot be depended upon for accuracy.

We need your help in many ways. Your input is what will make this relevant to all of us. If you can help with actual data input, we can get much more done more quickly. Email DAVE KULICK (dgkulick@hotmail.com) or me, kr19wells@gmail.com.

PARADISE FOUND

Kat Kadian-Baumeyer

DESTINATION: NAPLES, FL

Back in March, many of us did not think we would be considering vacation plans this year. With the State open for business, now is the time to reel in the discounts on travel right in our backyard.

Naples is one of my favorite Florida staycations. This idyllic destination is located just 130 miles to our west and a short drive across Alligator Alley, yet it feels worlds away.

Here is the lowdown on this highfalutin hip town. Former Confederate General and Kentucky US Senator John Stuart Williams and Louisville Courier-Journal publisher, Walter N. Haldeman, founded Naples in the 1880s when it was just a tiny seaside village.

You see, back in the 1880s, Naples was only accessible by boat. Those who were able to visit returned home to describe the city as reminiscent of Naples, Italy. Naples quickly became known for its balmy climate and plentiful fishing. Tourism boomed, and the two gentlemen returned to Naples, formed The Naples Company, and began building this winter getaway. First, the Naples Pier was erected. Next came the Naples Hotel.

Naples remained a secluded getaway for wealthy northerners until around 1927 when rail service was introduced to the area. When World War II ended, Naples became a popular destination for tourists from all over the country.

As a point of reference, the original Naples Hotel was purchased by Henry B. Watkins Sr, a toy manufacturer from Ohio. Watkins also bought The Beach Club and adjoining the golf course. The hotel is now known as the Naples Beach Hotel and Golf Club.

Today, downtown Naples is known for its million-dollar homes, swanky restaurants, pristine beaches, and high-end shopping.

Downtown Naples went through a “sort of” renaissance, creating a renewed and refreshed café style experience. The revamping of 5th Avenue made it the place to be seen. An endless choice of unique restaurants and bars with something for every palate stretches for blocks. Seating spills onto the sidewalks.

WHERE TO STAY:

The Inn on 5th is located directly on 5th Avenue South amidst all of the action. As a guest, you are steps away from dining and shopping. Many rooms have balconies that overlook the avenue. Summer rates start at $215.00.

Keeping Us Informed

GREEN COMMITTEE

Vinnie Ardillo

Thank you to all who supported Earth Day by planting a native plant, making donations, creating sidewalk chalk pictures with inspirational words and sharing organic heirloom basil seeds. Cash collected along with multiple bags of previously collected empty pill bottles, dog toys, and blankets were donated to Tri County Animal Rescue.

Coronavirus changed Green Committee plans for celebrating the 50th anniversary of Earth Day, but on the positive side, through this pandemic we have learned that we really can make a difference in our air quality and progress toward drawdown. In 1970, rivers were on fire, breathing the air in Los Angeles was like smoking 2-3 packs of cigarettes a day, and there was lead in our gasoline. We definitely have come a long way, but every year, the world is producing more carbon dioxide than the year before.

What can we do to stop greenhouse gases in the atmosphere and continue a steady decline, thereby stopping catastrophic climate change? There is so much we can do: join environmental group/groups (we just discovered a group here in Delray-Institute for Regional Conservation), check out Project Drawdown website, watch Doug Tallamy's "A Guide to Restoring the Little Things that Run the World" on You Tube (sponsored by FL Wildlife Foundation), and join our Green Committee! We will be posting all event dates, native plant info, and more on Rainberry's website. There is a webinar for HOA's about lakes/ponds coming up in June sponsored by Rookery Bay. When that info is available, we will put on the website.

"Do your little bit of good where you are; it's those little bits of good put together that overwhelm the world."

- Desmond Tutu

RETHINK how you can reduce your environmental footprint.
REDUCE the amount you waste by using less.
REUSE items in good condition by donating, sharing or repurposing.
RECYCLE all acceptable items in the blue or yellow bins.

FOR YOUR BENEFIT:

Read your Rules and Regulations because "I did not know" is not an excuse. If you are planning to make additional changes to your landscaping or to your home, you must get approval from the Architectural Control Committee. If it is a landscaping change, please show the approval to your landscaper. Also, if you don't know the answer to your question, call one of our Board members.

BLOCK CAPTAINS

Anne-Marie Blondin

Our 2019/2020 Annual Collection is now successfully completed.

I was recently able to retrieve all the remaining checks from our mailbox at the clubhouse. Due to your generosity, we are able to donate $2,600 each to the Delray Beach Police and Fire and Rescue Departments. This amount is a few hundred dollars more than anticipated and I thank you all very much.

I have been in contact with the Police and Fire and Rescue Departments of how our donations will be used and will advise you of their response in future Beacon articles.

Thank you all Block captains and Collectors for your valued assistance with this collection.

I wish everyone a good summer and, above all, please be safe and stay well.

CERT & PANDEMIC Van Kushner

It sounds like something out of a script for a thriller: “As the country fights to contain a deadly virus, a hurricane rakes the East Coast, knocking out power, disrupting already tenuous supply chains, displacing residents and further threatening millions of lives. But as coronavirus continues to spread at a time when climate change has increased the destructive potential of a host of natural disasters, the scenario could become a frightening reality -- one that officials and experts say we need to be prepared for. Even in normal times, natural disasters require a small army of government staff, first responders, relief organizations and volunteers to move people out of harm's way and provide victims with basic necessities like shelter, food and medicine.” (quoted from a CNN article which can be seen here)

<https://www.cnn.com/2020/04/18/politics/coronavirus-natural-disaster-response-ema/index.html>

As we are approaching the beginning of 2020 Hurricane season, your Rainberry Bay CERT team is preparing. This year, our preparation must go where no one has gone before. Not only do we face the challenges of dealing with the aftermath of a disaster with limited resources and members, we now have to factor in the COVID-19 epidemic.

This season will see a larger number of residents here, as many snowbirds have not as yet or will not be traveling back north due to the pandemic. In past years, part of the clubhouse remained open for residents to come to if they lost power. Due to the pandemic this year, once CERT sets up our Incident Command Post and Triage Area, the entire clubhouse will be off limits. This measure is needed to insure the risk of contamination and/or cross contamination be held to a minimum. As it is, CERT is not and has not been trained or prepared to deal with the pandemic. If people are allowed to come and go, the chances of contamination will rise exponentially and it will put the all the volunteers in danger, forcing the closing of the triage area, staging area and Command Center.

Yes, these are troubling times and some extreme measures are being considered and revamped in order to deal with a disaster. Your CERT team cannot and will not put ourselves in danger if security measures put in place are broken. We just don't have enough volunteers to cover this entire community.

We are fortunate in Rainberry Bay to have retired nurses and retired first responders as part of our team, all of whom are willing to run toward the impending disaster. We count on you, our Rainberry Bay family, to support us by not placing us in further danger and think about the safety of others.

HURRICANE SEASON IS HERE: NOW WHAT?

Helen Sohne

While we were looking the other way, hurricane season has crept up on us. Sure it's only June and the most active time of the year is usually August through October. But, this is Florida. Weather as well as power outages are unpredictable. So, when the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAAA) predicts an “above normal” hurricane season, we should pay attention. This means 7-9 hurricanes and 2-4 major hurricanes could develop. Some could make it to our East Coast. But, predicting exactly where is always tricky because storms move around. To learn more and stay informed: <https://www.nhc.noaa.gov>

It is vital to prepare your home inside and out, the sooner the better. As you shop whether in person or online, think about having enough supplies for several days. Even without a direct hit, ten percent of Rainberry residents lost power for about a week after hurricane Irma in 2017. Begin purchasing bottled water and nonperishable foods that you could either heat on your barbecue, camping stove or eat cold. Make sure to have a can opener. Batteries usually last 10 years. This is the time to purchase battery operated flashlights, lanterns, fans as well as radios. For complete information on how to prepare go to: <http://discover.pbcgov.org> and enter “hurricane planning guide” in the search bar. The guide is very comprehensive.

In Rainberry Bay, we have protocols that our management company follows to secure our property. We have developed some internal protocols, keeping our guardhouse functional and helping our neighbors (CERT) after a storm.

To learn more about what you can do to prepare and what to expect, please join us on a Zoom Hurricane Education and CERT presentation, Wednesday June 10, 2020 at 1:00 PM.. Zoom invitation will follow.

Listening in on a conversation between two friends...

- ☞ So how was your vacation in the Great Smokey Mountains?
  - ☞ Wasn't much of a vacation. We played in the regional bridge tournament in Gatlinburg. 2 or 3 sessions a day for the whole week.
- ☞ At what, 3 – 3 ½ hours each? Wow, you guys must be zombies by the end of the day! How much do you win if you come in 1st?
  - ☞ Oh, we don't win money. Just master points. We won 11 black and 3 gold points! Only 22 more gold and we'll be Life Masters!
- ☞ Uh Huh. No money. Just points. And what's the entry fee for this tournament?
  - ☞ There's no fee to enter the tournament. Just $16 per person for each session we play in.
- ☞ Uh huh. Let's see, that's $32 for the two of you per session, 3 sessions a day, food, lodging, transportation, and no purse if you win? So how much do you get if you get this Life Master thing?
  - ☞ No prize money, just a really nice plaque, suitable for framing.
- ☞ And you only need 22 more 'gold' points, whatever they are, to get there, right? For a nice, plaque, right? That plaque better be engraved in platinum! And I always thought bridge players were smart! Think I'll stick with euchre!

Bridge players understand...

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Council of Clubs has met over Zoom® during our stay-at-home period. The Rainberry clubs normally select dates for the following season in April. Since both the Clubhouse and the Theater are still not open due to the pandemic, no one could sign contracts with outside groups. Only the 21st Century Club had contracts and selected dates in the hope that they will have a venue by December 2020. As soon as we have any information for you, we will publish schedules of events.

We are very lucky at Rainberry Bay with no Covid 19 cases here. Our opening of amenities is going well, monitored by volunteers and board members. Residents have been mostly compliant, wearing their masks when needed and keeping social-distancing requirements. The care for one another is strong. Alerts and news are released whenever needed via our weekly e-blasts, our daily website and our monthly Beacon. The Calendar now shows Zoom meetings, classes and activities as they are scheduled. Remember to let the Calendar know if you want to schedule something.

The last stop on our Downtown Naples Tour is Bha! Bha! Persian Bistro. Being of Middle Eastern descent, there may be bias, but Bha! Bha! serves some of the most authentic Persian food in the area. The Summer Prefix Menu is a steal at $36 per person. Three courses, including dessert, will please anyone with a penchant for Persian cuisine. Try the Mixed Grill with chargrilled vegetables for a genuine Middle Eastern experience.

Downtown Naples is the ideal weekend getaway. Steeped rich in history yet approachable and fun and just about around the corner.

The Poop Fairy Doesn't Live Here Any More!

It's good to see you walking your pets everyday especially during our quarantine months. Sadly, we are receiving complaints once again that people are becoming careless about picking up from their animals and disposing of the waste.

Our Rules and Regulations (p. 24) specify clearly that:

- ◆ Owners will assume full responsibility for any damage to persons or property caused by their pets.
- ◆ Pets may be walked on the sidewalks around the lake Rainberry Bay and path.
- ◆ The owner must immediately remove all animal waste, and must properly clean up after the pet in accordance with any and all provisions of the Association governing documents, including the Rules and Regulations, and any City or County law or ordinance.
- ◆ Pet waste must be bagged when deposited in dumpsters and may not be tossed in storm drains or the lake.

All around the community, we have placed comfort stations with plastic bags for your convenience. Please use them, but don't hoard them.

Remember they are for everyone who has a dog.

SPORTS PAGES

TENNIS CLUB

David Kulick

We played tennis today. Yes, this is the tennis column so that's nothing special but as I'm writing this, it's May 1st, the first day of the grand experiment to re-open society. I'm sure by now it's June or July and we've come up with a cure and are all waiting in line to be vaccinated, or at least allowed to get haircuts. Hopefully we haven't found that it was a big mistake and we're all gasping for breath.

We're following Palm Beach County Emergency Order #5 as we open things up. It requires us to have staff supervise the pools, so as I write this we're putting that together and should have a pool open for swimming soon. It also mandates that tennis and pickleball players have to play singles. We're seniors. We play doubles, double the flavor, double the fun, half the running. Not this week. I noticed a fair amount of wheezing. Now that it is June, did we decide we like playing singles and are still doing it? Are we still required to play singles?

For six weeks, I looked at the elbow brace lying on the floor next to the tennis bag, and kept thinking that I really needed to put it in the bag. So, today I went off to play tennis for the first time in, well, awhile, and naturally the brace was back at the house. I did without it. I did just put it in the bag for tomorrow.

Do you still have things to do around the house? You shouldn't. I do. I put up the paintings, cleaned and reorganized the garage, didn't throw enough out. But, I still haven't put away those few boxes left over from moving here five years ago. I have to leave something for the next break in the action.

BOCCE: STAYING CONNECTED

Diane Maxey

A month (or more) without bocce was like a day without sunshine, a rare occurrence in Florida! A drive by the empty court brought back memories of spirited play, league victories, birthday celebrations, and just hanging out with the bocce "family."

But, on May 6, with the permission of the Rainberry Board, bocce play resumed, albeit with restrictions. As players gathered, it was evident they respected the rules of wearing masks and gloves, practicing social distancing of spectators, allowing only two players on each team, and sanitizing the balls after play. We are grateful for the volunteer monitors – CAMILLE AVARELLO and VITO TARRICONE - who are working to keep us safe during this transition.

Players have expressed appreciation for opening the courts, but note that it is a much quieter game and a little more tiring as each player throws more balls during a game. We are hopeful for a time when bocce and other activities get back to normal. In the meantime, we wish everyone a safe and happy summer.

REUSE, REPURPOSE: FOOD SCRAPS AND PEELS

Lois Wiesler

Don't throw your kitchen scraps away; put them to work. The outer skins of fruit and vegetables are filled with flavor and vitamins, and most often have enough matter left in them for another go-round.

TO ENHANCE FOOD

- Make lemon pepper: Mix lemon extract powder with freshly cracked pepper.
- Make zest: If you've juiced lemons, limes, oranges or grapefruit but don't have an immediate need for zest, you can make it anyway and dry or freeze it for future use. Try to scrape just the outer layer, the white layer of pith is bitter. Freeze in an airtight container. To dry, spread the zest on a towel and leave until dried, and store in a clean jar.
- Make citrus olive oil: Pound citrus peel (pith removed) in a mortar and pestle with some oil added. Place in a jar with more oil and let rest for six hours. Strain into a clean jar.

- Make potato crisps: Mix potato peels with enough lemon juice and olive oil to evenly coat. Spread the potato peels in a layer on a baking sheet and cook at 400 degrees, stirring once, until golden brown (about 10 minutes). Season to taste.
- Make stock: Boil potato peels, onion skins, carrot peels, leek ends, etc. for vegetable stock. (Also save fresh herb stems for this!)
- Boost soup and stock: Cheese rinds (sans wax) can be placed in soup stocks for an awesome secret boost of flavor and texture.
- Add 'meat' to greens: Cheese rinds can also be added to braised greens for added depth of flavor.

FOOD SCRAPS IN YOUR BEAUTY ROUTINE

- Make a banana sugar scrub: Sprinkle sugar on the flesh side of banana peels and use as a soft, exfoliating loofah. Rub gently all over your body and then rinse in the shower.
- Refresh your face: For a skin tonic, rub orange or grapefruit peels on your face (avoiding your eyes) and then gently rinse with warm water.
- Moisturize: Rub the fleshy part of an avocado peel on your face for a rich moisturizer.
- Relieve your peepers: Potato peels can reduce puffiness around eyes; press the moist side of the fresh peels to the skin for 15 minutes.
