Our Hearts are Full

There's a special sense of pride when a volunteer club successfully brings a community event to life. In Rainberry Bay, countless hours of planning and dedication go into the many activities our clubs host each month, creating enjoyable experiences for residents. We extend our sincere appreciation to all the groups that consistently make our community vibrant and engaging.

To that end, the Rainberry Women's Club in Action is especially grateful for the enthusiastic support and positive feedback following our "Divas, Legends and Laughter" evening featuring Holly Faris. The event was lively, entertaining, and truly memorable. It also marked a milestone for our Club, with record attendance and outstanding reviews from those who joined us.

Most importantly, such strong turnout allows us to give back. Proceeds from the evening will support nonprofit organizations selected by the Women's Club Board of Directors, including Eat Well –Live Well and others that make a meaningful difference.

As the season winds down, we are already planning exciting events for the coming year. Our goal remains to offer engaging, year-round activities that benefit all residents of our wonderful community.

Thank you to everyone who supported the Women's Club in Action this year. Your participation and encouragement mean so much to us. We welcome your ideas and feedback as we continue to grow and expand our programs in the year ahead.

Enjoy your summer and rest up for another exciting season of tennis in 2027.

"Ladies Who Play" by Barbara Kessel

Our tennis group came about as more and more tennis players decided that team tennis was not for them. The level might be rated at 3.0 or above, and it's very social. Every week we play with different partners, and we usually play two sets. It's been a lot of fun and we have an end of the season luncheon. If interested in joining us next year, contact Di-

GREEN COMMITTEE by Carol Unger

The Green Committee meets the 4th Thursday of each month at 4pm in the clubhouse. All are welcome to participate. We are not a Club; we are a Committee! No dues! Donations are always appreciated.

RETHINK-REDUCE-REUSE-RECYCLE

Thank you to all of our residents who participated in our Hazardous Waste Collection, Shoe Collection, and Shredding Events. We are now collecting old prescription eyeglasses and sunglasses, even readers! No cases please. Drop off your eyeglasses in the designated box in the Vending Machine Room at the clubhouse. Let's continue to help keep our planet GREEN for our children and grandchildren! On May 11 from 10-11:30am, there will be a guided tour through Pan's Garden in Palm Beach. Our guide is Susan Lerner, Preservation Horticulture Director. This is a private botanical garden. Only 3 spots remain available. Cost is $15.00 per person. If interested e-mail Karen Aprill at klaprill@gmail.com.

Bocce Club News

Katy Mitrani and Diane Maxey

As the season winds down, we reflect on a very exciting and active year for the Bocce Club with 140 members, 4 well-attended "Members Only" events, 3 successful Bingos, 2 popular ice cream dances in the theater, and 1 fun trip to Hard Rock. Even though our snowbirds leave us, the club continues to meet all summer on Monday and Thursday at 6 pm and Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 9 am. It's a perfect time to play and work on your skills.

Special thanks go out to our very hard working Refreshment Committee for creating so many fun Bocce sponsored events this year. Thanks to Jack Mitrani, Joe Averella, and Jimmy Carlin along with Terry Barberio for keeping our courts in such good shape, to Jack Mitrani for holding Bocce lessons, to Barry Nissenoff for running the Bocce League, and to Suzi Maltezo and Pat Gannon for creating the Women's League which was a rousing success. We already have fun things booked for next season. Mark your 2027 calendars for the return of the 1969 Band on Feb. 5th. and Ray Coke Music on March 6th. Happy Summer to all!

Yiddish Heritage Club by Glenn Todd

As our season comes to a close, we look forward to a special meeting with entertainment on May 15 at 12:30 p.m. in the auditorium. This is a wonderful opportunity to reflect on all that our club has accomplished over the past months.

We were fortunate to have two of our members, Wolf Bergoltz and Deb Sklar, present informative talks offering different perspectives on Jewish heritage. In addition, we welcomed two organizations that shared insights on a variety of Jewish topics, enriching our understanding and appreciation.

One of our highlights this season was a musical program featuring Dick Lowenthal, who presented "Jews in Jazz," complete with recordings that brought the topic to life. He was joined by fellow Rainberry Bay resident Phoebe Kessler, who delighted the audience with several songs. It was an engaging and memorable program enjoyed by all.

For our closing meeting, we are pleased to present "A Musical Journey Through Jewish History", hosted by Rabbi/Cantor Andrew Arnold. Serving as your spiritual tour guide, Rabbi Arnold will take you through different periods of Jewish history through music, blending storytelling with familiar and meaningful songs. He looks forward to "stamping your passports" as you journey through lands near and far in this unique and uplifting performance.

We continue to pray for peace in Israel and celebrate it as our Jewish homeland. This program offers a meaningful way to come together, reflect, and learn through music and shared heritage.

Everyone is invited to attend. Admission is free for members and $5.00 for non-members. Light refreshments will be served. Hope to see you all there.

Homes Association Homeowners by Rae Matranga

As discussed during the last Homes Association meeting, the Revised Association documents are under final review by the attorney. Once completed, the next step is organizing the voting process which is coordinated by FSR Management. If homeowners have opted for electronic voting, homeowners should expect to receive the proposed amended documents electronically. If not, homeowners should expect to receive the proposed amended documents by mail. An informational meeting will be organized to collectively review and highlight the proposed changes prior to voting. The ultimate goal is for you, the homeowners, to ratify the amendments. We look forward to seeing you at the meeting. Please keep an eye out for the scheduling announcement.

Thank you,

Rae Matranga

NIA by Helen Sohne

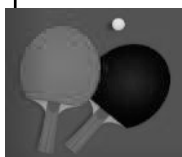

We had a blast at the “Ten Years of Nia in Rainberry Celebration and Dance” with over 20 participants. First we heard from some of the leading international trainers and choreographers. Then we danced, mingled and snacked. It’s a far cry from my previous professional life as a hospice/home-care social worker. I was a physical therapy frequent flyer; Nia was the only full body movement practice that made me feel better, not worse. And it helped me cope with a very stressful job. Now as a teacher, I am so grateful that I can share NIA in my community! Join us to experience what we call “The Joy of Movement.” You’ll work up a sweat, get in your steps and get your heart rate up while feeling like you’re just playing! We dance on Tuesdays and Fridays 10-11am in the Clubhouse. New to Nia? Your second class is FREE! Email for more info: Niadelray@gmail.com

Let’s see what’s going on in Rainberry Bay today!

The Table Tennis Club

by Helen Sohne

This is a big year for Table Tennis. From the hit movie, Marty Supreme, to a great article in the NY Times, we are seeing a surge in interest for this great sport. The title of the article in The Athletic, a New York Times column, is The Scientific Case for Ping-Pong: Why athletes - and you - should play more table tennis. Whether you play other racquet sports, or no sports, Table Tennis has multiple benefits to your health and well-being.

Come and see for yourself! We play every Monday and Wednesday at noon. If playing, bring a drink and wear shoes that are not too “grippy.” For more information or for a copy of the article, email RBTabletennis@gmail.com

Florida and China Share Climate Risks

by Allan Trust

Provinces in many parts of China and southeastern Florida have more in common than one might expect. Both are among the most climate-vulnerable regions in the world. In fact, China has 16 of the 20 regions most at risk globally, and Florida ranks among the top ten.

Why are these areas sometimes described as “high-risk twins”? The answer lies in several shared characteristics. Both regions feature low-lying coastal geography. In Florida, especially in the southeast, the land is built on porous limestone and sits only slightly above sea level. This makes both areas highly sensitive to coastal flooding, storm surge, high-tide inundation, and heavy rainfall.

Another major factor is rapid development in vulnerable zones. Both regions have experienced extensive industrial growth and infrastructure expansion in areas already threatened by rising sea levels. In Florida alone, coastal counties—including Palm Beach County—have more than $1.2 trillion in property value at risk.

In addition, both regions face similar environmental challenges, including rising sea levels, more intense rainfall, stronger storms, and increasing temperatures. Climate assessments in Florida indicate that these factors will increasingly disrupt transportation systems, housing, and local economies. Looking ahead, the future presents significant challenges. Both Florida and China have invested heavily in resilience planning, but the costs are enormous and the path forward is complex. Given their shared risks, it is reasonable to ask whether there is cooperation between the two. The answer is yes. Despite broader political tensions between the United States and China, collaboration continues—primarily in the private sector rather than at the governmental level. Universities, research institutions, and private companies are working together in areas such as flood-risk modeling, land-use planning, methane and greenhouse gas monitoring technologies, and urban drainage engineering.

Climate change remains one of the few areas where mutual dependence is recognized, and cooperation continues quietly, often below the radar.

FUN TIMES IN THE 'HOOD

Rainberry Bay Classics by Michael K. Cantwell

There are some reprises in May and June, not because we've exhausted the available films but because these performances are just so good that I wanted to give anyone who missed them the first time around an opportunity to see them.

May 9, 2 PM, Romeo and Juliet. The great Russian ballerina Galina Ulanova was 45 — long past an age at which most ballerinas have retired — when her performance of Juliet was preserved for posterity. This is how Serge Prokofiev, who composed the music for Romeo and Juliet, described one of the greatest dancers of the Twentieth Century: "Ulanova is the genius of Russian ballet, its elusive soul, its inspired poetry. She imparts to her interpretation of classical roles a depth of expression unheard of in Twentieth Century ballet." Amen.

May 16, 2 PM, Marriage of Figaro. Mozart's Figaro is based on a play by Pierre-Augustin Beaumarchais, a French Renaissance Man who supported the American and French Revolutions — a play that Napoleon later referred to as "the Revolution already put into action." The music is one of Mozart's greatest achievements and the singers in this performance are a dream cast.

June 6, 2 PM, La Boheme. The audience cries. Sometimes the performers cry. Even Puccini is said to have wept when he wrote the final chord that signified Mimi's death.

June 20, 2 PM, Plisetskaya Dances. Maya Plisetskaya was Ulanova's successor at the Bolshoi and with her among the greatest ballerinas of the Twentieth Century.
